I am Associate Professor at the University of São Paulo Law School (Brazil), since 2007 as well as Vice-president of the Research Board of the University of São Paulo Law School. I am presently president of the “Law for a Green Planet Institute”. Brazilian nonprofit institution for the improvement of the Environmental Law, since 2017. My fields of research are mainly Environmental Law; environmental policy instruments; Climate Law. My Education was completed at the University of São Paulo Law School Law Degree, 1992; Doctoral Degree, 2000; Pós-doctoral Degree (Livre-docência), 2011.

My Complete Curriculum in English can be found in at the Brazilian Plataforma Lattes: <http://lattes.cnpq.br/0272979689523122>, but I would like to highlight as my selected publications the book “Pagamento por serviços ambientais. Sustentabilidade e Disciplina Jurídica”. São Paulo: ATLAS, 2012 , winner of the Brazilian National book prize for the field of law, as well as some publications resulting from IUCNAEL Colloquiums, such as a chapter in Global Environmental law at a Crossroads (2014) and at the Revista Catalana de Dret Ambiental, 2015.

As a statement of motivation, I would like to mention that I coordinate a research group at the University of São Paulo called “Environmental Law, Economy and Sustainability”, where graduate and undergraduate students work on specific research on Environmental Law. In addition, I am the President of the “Law for a Green Planet Institute”, a nonprofit organization affiliated to IUCN. The Institute’s purpose is the development and capacity building in the field of Environmental Law in the Country and Latin America and which activities include the promotion of a Latin American Conference, as well as specific seminars, workshops and publications.

I believe the IUCN-AEL has been performing an important role of experience and knowledge exchange as well as production of Environmental Law doctrine. Besides, it creates opportunities for collaboration and cooperation among its wide range of members.

I understand my position both at the University of São Paulo and at the “Law for a Green Planet Institute” allows me to contribute for the functions and activities of the IUCN Academy’s Collegium, as representative of Latin American Region.

I thank you for your attention,
Yours Sincerely,
